

Mike Wall

Mike Wall (Dilek, Varianz, Smallroom, Orphik)

In the 90's Mike Wall made his first experiences with electronic music. In these years, he started mixing tapes and playing his first gigs in Mecklenburg. But he released under the name Mike Wall for the first time on the record label Modulat in 2005, and since then things started looking up for him. In the same year, he played at the legendary Melt Festival and refurbished his studio. These changes brought a fresh wind in his EP's like "Loose Changes" or "She Comes" and let his productions seem much more smooth and warm. He is known over the border of Germany for the variety in his sets, because even listeners in Italy, Spain, Greece, Austria and Switzerland were very enthusiastic about his dynamic sounds.

In 2006, his début vinyl was released on the London minimal label named Safari Electronique, which is home to very talented producers such as Italoboyz, Delete and Arnaud le Textier, just to name a few. Since then, a lot happened and he released on labels like Smallroom music, Dilek, Lordag, Meerestief and his own label Orphik. With the foundation of Orphik Recordings, he took a further step into independence and he began to push unknown artists and labels with the credo of having the best fun out of it.

Although artists like Steve Bug had influenced him a lot during many years, he found his own sound. The symbiosis of techno and groove lays perfectly in his warm baselines, but Mike himself his unstoppable and pushes his artistic limits all the time. Further releases and long party nights are already planned for 2011, so stay tuned...
